

The Glorious Great Martyr Demetrius October 26

Saint Demetrius was a Thessalonian, a most pious son of pious and noble parents, and a teacher of the Faith of Christ. When Maximian first came to Thessalonica in 190, he raised the Saint to the rank of Duke of Thessaly. But when it was discovered that the Saint was a Christian, he was arrested and kept bound in a bath-house. While the games were under way in the city, Maximian was a spectator there. A certain friend of his, a barbarian who was a notable wrestler, Lyaeus by name, waxing haughty because of the height and strength of his body, boasted in the stadium and challenged the citizens to a contest with him. All that fought with him were defeated. Seeing this, a certain youth named Nestor, acquaintance of Demetrius', came to the Saint in the bath-house and asked his blessing to fight Lyaeus single-handed.

Receiving this blessing and sealing himself with the sign of the precious Cross, he presented himself in the stadium, and said, "O God of Demetrius, help me!" and straightway he engaged Lyaeus in combat and smote him with a mortal blow to the heart, leaving the former boaster lifeless upon the earth. Maximian was sorely grieved over this, and when he learned who was the cause of this defeat, he commanded straightway and Demetrius was pierced with lances while he was yet in the bath-house, As for Nestor, Maximian commanded that he be slain with his own sword.

DON'T WORRY

A Joyful 'toon by Mike Waters

Look at the birds of the air; they do not sow or reap or store away in barns, and yet your heavenly Father feeds them. Are you not much more valuable than they? Who of you by worrying can add a single hour to his life?
- MATTHEW 6:26-27 NIV

The Rich Man and Lazarus

The Lord said, "There was a rich man, who was clothed in purple and fine linen and who feasted sumptuously every day. And at his gate lay a poor man named Lazarus, full of sores, who desired to be fed with what fell from the rich man's table..."

We are familiar with today's Gospel reading from Luke 16:19-31 and we ask ourselves what was the problem with the Rich Man? The Rich Man was attached to his ego, wealth and power. He was so attached to them that he would or could not see the poor man starving and sick lying at his gate. This is a picture of what can happen to us if we are unwilling to face the truth about ourselves. We think we are the Rich Man dining sumptuously when in truth we are poor and sick and the tasty meal we are eating is poison to our souls and bodies and we are afraid or unwilling to do anything about it.

Our lack of internal peace proves it, our sad, bitter lives prove it, the way we treat ourselves and others proves it. We can get attached to harmful ways of life, to destructive habits, to dark theologies and philosophies disguised as truth, to fear, to passion, to people, to things (even things that in and of themselves are good) and every one of them creates a chasm that keeps us from the joy of the Kingdom of heaven. We begin to see suffering and pain as "normal" and inescapable. We learn to live with bad situations and never seek to find a way out and then, through direct action or simple indifference we project onto the world the hell that is in us.

The parable of the Rich Man and Lazarus uncovers a little the veil over the world to come, and gives us an opportunity to understand worldly existence with eternity in view. In the light of this parable, we see that earthly goods are not so much happiness as they are a test of our ability to love and help our neighbors. "If therefore you have not been faithful in the unrighteous mammon," says the Lord in the conclusion of the previous parable, "who will commit to your trust the true riches?" (Luke 16:11) This means that if we do not know how to manage the illusory riches we have today, then we will not be worthy to receive the real treasure from God, the treasure which was intended for us in the future life. Thus let us remind ourselves that our worldly goods in fact belong to God. He uses them to test us. Amen.
